Pastoral Reflections: "A SUMMER OF MEMORABLE MOMENTS AND DELIGHTFUL DAYS"

Danny Noonan is a grandpa! I saw it with my own two eyes but I still find it hard to believe.

Growing up, I fell in love with comedies. Early on I liked the slapstick of the Three Stooges and Monty Python, but I grew out of that. Although I liked Leslie Nielsen in the "Naked Gun" Series and the iconic "Airplane," I was more drawn to Gene Wilder and Richard Pryor in "Stir Crazy" and "Silver Streak." However, my favorite comedian was (and I still think is), Bill Murray. I first saw him in the movie about a summer camp called "Meatballs" at the end of my senior year in high school. I thought Murray playing Tripper as the head camp counselor was brilliant. Of course I loved his work in "Stripes," "Ghostbusters (I not II!)," "Scrooged," "Groundhog Day," and "What About Bob." But the piece de resistance for me was his work in "Caddyshack" where Murray played the unsophisticated assistant greenskeeper, Carl Spackler.

If your comedic taste only has a palate for elegant and classy humor then this movie is not a dish for you! The humor would appeal more to those in a junior high class room than a high society boardroom, but I confess he makes me laugh uproariously! To be sure, I along with others who ease the stresses of life with bromides from movies, can recite by heart a number of the classic lines by Murray and his fellow cast members: Rodney Dangerfield, Chevy Chase and Ted Knight.

In the movie, "Caddyshack," a young caddy is played by the actor Michael O'Keefe who is named Danny Noonan. In the storyline Noonan is trying to make money to go to college. Hearing about a scholarship that can be had if he wins the "Caddy Tournament," we are treated to his golfing and other shenanigans. Although this movie debuted over forty years ago, Danny Noonan will forever be the goofy teen hoping to get into college while spending his summer being a Caddy at "Bushwood Country Club," in my mind's eye and memory.

So imagine my surprise when Joanne and I were watching the movie "Instant Family" starring Mark Wahlberg, Rose Byrne and Isabela Moner and "Danny Noonan" (Michael O'Keefe) came on the screen playing grandpa! I said it out loud, "Danny Noonan is a grandpa!?"

Oh how could this be? Danny Noonan is a teenager, he's supposed to still have a full head of wavy red hair not wisps of white fringes on a halfway bald pate. He's supposed to be skinny almost scrawny, not stoop shouldered, hollow chested, with a paunch under his belt. Indeed time has marched on.

I know it's silly to think that Danny Noonan should be the same age as when I first saw the movie but who can know how one's mind faces some facts. Forty years has not only passed by Danny Noonan, they've also passed me by too. Could it be that in my mind's eye I considered myself to be as young and youthful as Danny Noonan? Could it be the shock of seeing Danny as a grandpa was really a dose of reality to me that I too am really old enough to be a grandpa? Oh, don't get me wrong, I love being a grandpa, but as strange as this sounds, I didn't think I was really old enough to be a grandpa. Huh. I really am old enough (like Danny Noonan) to be a grandpa.

I've lived nearly three score of years. . . I was present in every moment of them, but so many are lost in the recesses of my memory, and even the important ones that had major impacts on me get a little fuzzy over time.

The Psalmist says in Psalm 90:12 "Teach us to number our days aright that we may gain a heart of wisdom," King David says it more bluntly in Psalm 39:4 "Show me my life's end and the number of my days; let me know how fleeting is my life."

I'm trying to be more intentional now about "numbering my days aright." I want to take measure of the moments, especially those that reveal more of God's love to me and us and to the ones I love the most – family and friends.

Life is full of blinks. See, it seems I just graduated from college and then I blinked. Then I got married and I blinked. I graduated from seminary and I blinked. Rebecca was born and I blinked. Abby was born and I blinked. I came to Immanuel and I blinked. Joshua was born and I blinked. Now after 25 years of blinking at Immanuel all my kids have graduated from college, Becca got married and had baby Nathan, Abby and Josh are gainfully employed and I'm here staring out my office window seeing the PK kids on the playground wondering where the time had gone. It only seems a few blinks ago that I myself was climbing on the jungle gym.

As summer begins, I want to number the days aright. I want to measure the moments. King David said it right "You have made my days a mere handbreadth..." (Psalm 39:5). As Jesus has given me eternal life as a free gift through His own sacrificial death and resurrection, I want to use my life as a response and be intentional about the moments, hours and days that I spend.

I invite you all to consider doing the same thing. Especially this summer, measure then mark your days focusing on the love Jesus offers you and the love you can offer Him and the important and special people in your life. The Latin phrase TEMPEST FUGIT is true. It simply means "Time flies!" The fact of the matter is "Tempest is Fugiting" faster than ever!

Danny Noonan is old enough to be a grandpa. So am I. I was told by the older family members life would go fast. It's true. May this summer be a time of memorable moments and delightful days for you and your loved ones. I'm aiming for mine to be full of those! A blessed summer to you all!

Yours in Jesus with much love,

Rev. William P. Yonker
Senior Pastor

† FROM PASTOR BAERWOLF †

As I write these words to you, some neighbors from across the parking lot here at church are packing up many of their belongings into moving trucks. A neighbor on our court is doing the same thing—large trucks and vans have been there hauling things away after their house was sold. It must be moving day!

What about you—what is moving in your life right now? Maybe it's a teenager who is ready to graduate high school. Maybe a son or daughter who just got their first job and needs transportation. Maybe a grown up child is packing up their things to move into the city to start their first job in their chosen career. Maybe a kindergartner is thinking about moving into first grade and trying to figure out what it will be like having Mrs. Dougherty as her teacher instead of Mrs. Anderson.

Maybe you are contemplating retirement and trying to figure out how things will all work out. Maybe you are making much more difficult decisions about pursuing another round of chemo or more radiation treatments. All of those activities involves moving—from here to there—either in your mind as you think through them or physically from place to place.

Whatever is moving in your life right now please recall these words of Hebrews 11 where it says, “By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place that he was to receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. By faith he went to live in the land of promise, as in a foreign land, living in tents with Isaac and Jacob, heirs with him of the same promise.” Later that same chapter reminds us that Abraham and all the saints who have gone before were moving through their days always looking forward to that which was yet to be—always focused on that home in heaven which Jesus is preparing for us.

So in a sense—it is moving day every day for the child of God. Think with me of how that impacts your life—what it means to be so ready for Jesus to return and take us home to live with Him in heaven. What a gift Jesus gives us today to commit to worshiping every week over the summer to be able to hear the amazing good news of sins forgiven and life restored through all that Jesus has done. What a gift Jesus gives us today to become involved in some meaningful ministry here at Immanuel. What a gift Jesus gives us today to reflect on how best to use the resources the Lord has given to you to make a difference through the work of Immanuel Lutheran Church and School.

Wherever the Lord moves you today I am praying that you can sense that He promises never to leave us, never to forsake us. The Lord promises to be with us until the very end of the age. The Lord promises that He holds us close in His tender arms of care. The Lord promises to bless us and keep us, to make His face shine upon us, to share His favor and His peace in our lives today and every day.

Peace and much joy—

AMPC But the fruit of the [Holy] Spirit [the work which His presence within accomplishes] is love, joy (gladness), peace ...

BRG But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace ...

CJB But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace ...

ESV But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace ...

NIV But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace ...

This verse is almost identical in every translation I referenced for this note.

I wanted to see if in any translation it was recorded as 'the fruits' instead of 'the fruit'. Why? Well, I think sometimes I use this verse as a check list to see how well I'm doing in my relationship to Christ.

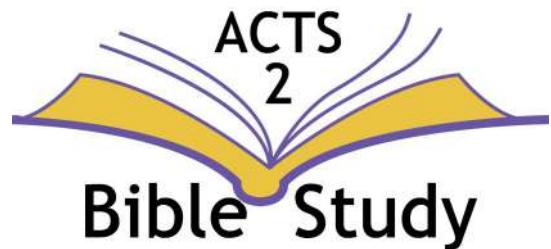

Once I realized that the FRUIT of the Holy Spirit is characterized by ALL of the adjectives mentioned (love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control) I began to wonder why I didn't exhibit them all. Then I began to understand that maybe I had some natural tendencies towards being kind and less tendencies towards being patient. Did I measure my spiritual growth by how well my natural tendencies were developing and evident to others? I think I did.

Some theologians have suggested that the biggest stumbling block to growing in your faith-walk is our good nature. If you read Chapter 5 in Galatians, you'll see how the Holy Spirit is the power that guides us to developing our full Christian nature and crucifying our self or sinful nature. I say self because some of us have some pretty strong good natures.

It is very possible to be active in the church and contribute to other people changing their lives; and yet, if your own life isn't changing and exhibiting the FRUIT of the Holy Spirit it is time to run to the Lord and find answers in Him. Because change is inevitable in the Lord.

Is it possible that God the Father, Jesus and the Holy Spirit for you are partly a concept and not a reality? How can I not be joyful if I recognized the beauty of what He's done for me? How can I not be patient if I hear Him say, "Father forgive them"? How can I not be kind when I see Him pour himself out on others? Why do I seek approval from others unless I don't know that His approval is all I need? (integrity) How can I not be gentle when I see Him meek and holy of heart?

If you are, like me struggling with the many conflicts in the world and find a worldly solution as the initial response, I pray that you'll dive into the Lord and let Him make the necessary internal changes so that you exhibit love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. C.S. Lewis describes well the Christian who has allowed the Holy Spirit to change him in his book, Mere Christianity. Timothy Keller, speaks through his pod cast on the very same subject – to which I give both credit for this shared thought.

PPP Worship...

Our midweek Worship - Wed. nights at 7 pm - continues, worship services led in song on piano /song leader(s), with messages from our pastors that dig a little deeper into scripture, reach a little further into where you are. Come grow with us as together we grow in the Word.

Comin' Alive

Comin' Alive Worship

The Services of Worship & Welcome for our A.I.M. Class Confirmands, New members & Transfers will be Sunday - June 2nd, in both the Sunday services (8:00 & 10:45 a.m.) ... be sure to welcome these new friends into our family - and watch for their pictures in the atrium, taking time to help yourself become more familiar with their faces and names.

SUMMER "HYMN SING"...

For those that enjoy hymn singing & lunch fellowship, we will be hosting a "HYMN SING" this summer...on Tuesday, June 18th,

The Sing starts at 11:30 a.m. and will be followed by a lunch fellowship in Luther Hall.

This is a wonderful opportunity to not only offer up songs of worship to our God, but also to enjoy some quiet lunch fellowship. Join us.

"DROP-IN" CHOIR...

Our Drop-In Choir will be singing several times this summer... practicing one time and then providing special music that following weekend.

Dates when the choir will be singing are Sunday, July 7th, and Sunday, August 11th - at the 8 a.m. services. Plan to join us for rehearsals on Tuesday, July 2nd (for singing on the 7th) and/or Thursday, August 8th (for singing on the 11th) at 6:30 p.m.

We will practice in the Sanctuary...(main floor by the piano)

Whether High School or adult, or even if you have never sung with the choir, this would be a great time to add your talents to the group, as the rehearsal time and commitment level will be low, and the music an easy "pick-up". Come join us!! Immanuel's Sacred Choir (adult choir) will start up again at the end of August and meets from September thru May on Thursday nights from 6:30-7:45. If that music ministry interests you to where you would be willing to be come and share your talents as part of that ensemble - please let Bill Gade know (847.428.4477 x227)

This past year has seen so much joy being shared. From driving around our communities and seeing Share Joy signs in people's front yards to Joy Man making an appearance at the Spring Operetta—Immanuel Lutheran Church and School has been drawing people closer to Christ as together we Share Joy.

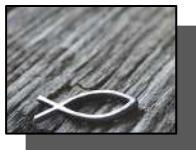

With your help, our Immanuel school kids packed and sent 500 Kits for Kids to the Congo and Cambodia. Each of these kits are filled with very generous first aid supplies and will be given for families to use in taking care of children in their homes.

As this fiscal year ends at the end of June, we wanted you to know of some special things that are still happening that we are hoping you will be able to help make possible. Because of some unforeseen circumstances, we are projecting ending the year nearly $150,000 behind of where we thought we would be at this time during our budgeting process. And yet there is still so much more left for us to do including the final project of Share Joy and that is to give a week's offering to our friends at Project C.U.R.E. so they can send a shipping container filled with medical supplies to a regional hospital in the Dominican Republic. We also will be looking for volunteers to visit Project C.U.R.E. and help stuff that container with the material we are sending to that hospital.

During the month of June we are asking for you to pray for a season of generosity here at Immanuel. Pray that Jesus would open our hearts to His love and kindness and pray that we would generously respond to this need so that we can finish this fiscal year in a healthy place—with our bills paid and our planned giving complete. Pray that we can send this container to this hospital in the Dominican Republic and pray that many will step forward to help bring this Share Joy initiative to completion.

Your weekly giving is so essential to making all this happen and we are including in this newsletter an envelope which you may use to give a special gift to Immanuel so that the Lord can once again surprise us with how we Share Joy with one another. These gifts are over and above your planned weekly giving to our church and school ministry. Your gifts to this Share Joy fund will be used to make sure we finish this fiscal year strong as well as being able to ship this container to the hospital where it is so urgently needed. You may also email Pastor Baerwolf if you would like to be included in opportunities to visit the Project C.U.R.E. warehouse in Woodridge and help pack this shipping container for the Dominican Republic. His email address is pbaerwolf@immanuel-ed.org.

Thanks so much for helping to Share Joy here at Immanuel—what a blessing to be part of a church and school family so filled with the joy of Christ that we desire to share it with others. We hope and pray that together the Lord will once again surprise us with His joy.

LUTHERAN CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICES

SPRINGTIME LAYETTE COLLECTION FOR LCFS

Did you know that LCFS needs over 1 MILLION diapers each year, given to foster parents who take new-born babies given up for adoption. They also need infant t-shirts, sleepers, socks, receiving blankets, all baby items for the foster parents...Don't forget the diapers and more diapers!

The cradle will be in the narthex to receive donations through June 9th.

Your "gifts from the heart" are greatly appreciated, thank you.

There are 125,000 abused children in Illinois and LCFS currently has 1,800 of those children placed with safe and caring foster families. At the same time, LCFS staff work with the birth families helping them to get their lives together, so they can be reunited with their children.

Please continue to Support$$ and pray for foster parents and the children in their care. The charity works tirelessly to reunite as many children as possible with their parents.

If you would like to support LCFS go to their web site www.lcfs.org/donate. Thank you!

Family Faith Building Ideas for Your Home

Summer Family Time Ideas

Family Picnic - Everyone plans the picnic together and takes part in the work to get ready. While on the picnic talk about your favorite part of God's creation.

Backyard Camping - Borrow a tent (if you don't have one) and spend the evening together in the backyard. Candles and flashlights can bring the family together and also bring out the conversations. Parents could spend the entire evening telling stories about childhood adventures and how God was with them when they were young.

Family Servants - Form a garden brigade. With gloves, garden tools and trash bags, your family would be a welcome sight for any neighbor who is a senior citizen, or anyone doesn't have time to care for their landscaping. Spend some time serving your neighbors by cleaning up weeds in their flowerbeds.

Watch the Sky - On a day when the clouds are fluffy and white, lay a blanket on the grass and lie back to watch the pictures go by. When someone spots an animal, a person, or a symbol in the clouds, he or she describes it for the family. While watching the clouds keep an eye out for God's handiwork.

Tell Family Stories - Tell your kids about your childhood, schooling, and family. Make sure they hear about successes and failures you've experienced, how things were different when you were growing up, and what dating your spouse and getting married were like. And tell each child all the details about the day he or she was born. These family stories help children appreciate the fact that they belong in the family.

Plant Something - As a family, go to the nursery and have each child pick out a plant that is within your budget. When you get home, have everyone work to plant their choice plant in the perfect spot.

Read the Bible & Pray Each Night - At bedtime, read your kids a Bible story and tuck them into bed with a short prayer. The comfort that comes from remembering a parent's faith in God will impact their lives forever!
