

Math, Music, & Science News

10/28/2024

In math, we worked with positional words. We met me a new friend, Paige the Position Pig. We discussed positional word vocabulary such as over, under, inside, outside (and many more) and read a book about Paige's Positional Book. We used our position words as we sang the Bear Hunt song. Finally, we checked our understanding by identifying positional words. Positional words are all around us. We just have to look for them!

Today in science, students explored real pumpkins in various stages of growth. They learned about the Pumpkin Life Cycle: growth from seed, sprout, vine, flower, green pumpkin, and orange pumpkin. They read and colored a Pumpkin Life Cycle emergent reader during our learning. Also, check out the QR codes page for fun pumpkin growth videos and read-aloud stories!

This week in music class, we will continue to learn pitch matching and we'll go even further: we will learn to match (copy) entire musical phrases that we hear. After that, we will continue to practice songs for our Christmas program and we will practice several songs we want to sing for our very special VIP's who are coming on Thursday.

Math, Music, & Science News

10/28/2024

In math, we worked with positional words. We met me a new friend, Paige the Position Pig. We discussed positional word vocabulary such as over, under, inside, outside (and many more) and read a book about Paige's Positional Book. We used our position words as we sang the Bear Hunt song. Finally, we checked our understanding by identifying positional words. Positional words are all around us. We just have to look for them!

Today in science, students explored real pumpkins in various stages of growth. They learned about the Pumpkin Life Cycle: growth from seed, sprout, vine, flower, green pumpkin, and orange pumpkin. They read and colored a Pumpkin Life Cycle emergent reader during our learning. Also, check out the QR codes page for fun pumpkin growth videos and read-aloud stories!

This week in music class, we will continue to learn pitch matching and we'll go even further: we will learn to match (copy) entire musical phrases that we hear. After that, we will continue to practice songs for our Christmas program and we will practice several songs we want to sing for our very special VIP's who are coming on Thursday.